

HOLLAND BRINGS BERLIN TO TERMS

Offlams Agreement That Dutch Ships Taking Coal to England Will Not Be molested.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The German Government has given a pledge to Holland not to detain or search Dutch ships carrying coal to England, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Express. This comes due to the result of a visit to Berlin of Cornelius J. K. Van Aelst, President of the Gramma Trust, and another Dutch Commissioner. The Express says Van Aelst, having representations by the Germans, then undertook the trip to Berlin, and after a series of conferences obtained Germany's assent to his demands.

CLOSED ALL DAY SATURDAY
Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue

Men's Furnishing Shop

16 West 38th St.—Store Floor
Separate Shop, a Step from 5th Avenue.

Will Close Out Thursday

340 Men's Silk Crepe Shirts

Of silk crepe de chine in pastel shades and fancy stripes.

4.00

Heretofore $5.00 and $5.50

690 Men's Madras Shirts

In bright or conservative stripes; French cuffs.

1.00 Heretofore $1.50

325 Madras and Crepe Shirts

Of Japanese crepe and woven madras.

1.45 Heretofore $2.00

320 Cotton Crepe Pajamas

Of fine quality cotton crepe in a large variety of fancy colorings.

1.25 Heretofore $2.00

480 Men's FIELD CUB Shirts

A convertible collar shirt, ideal for golf, tennis and outdoor wear. Regular or elbow sleeves.

.75 Heretofore $1.75

530 Men's Silk Scarfs

Of faille silk Crepe; large variety of colorings.

.35 Heretofore 50c

420 English Foulard Scarfs

Of English Foulard silk, in neat or novelty design.

Special .85

CLOSED ALL DAY SATURDAY

Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue

Men's Shoe Shop

4 West 38th St. Separate Shop, Store Floor

Will Close Out Thursday

325 Men's "Banister" Shoes

Low shoes in black or tan leathers, sizes incomplete

4.00

Heretofore $7.00

242 Men's FRANKLIN Shoes

(Long applied toe)

Low shoes in black or tan leathers, sizes incomplete

3.00

Heretofore $6.00 and $6.00

A FREE CONEY BEACH SOON, AND FREE BOARDWALK NEXT, THANKS TO EVENING WORLD

State and City Authorities
May Yield Axes If Necessary.

OBSTRUCTIONS TO GO.

Resort's Business Men Expect
No Trouble—Now for
That Boardwalk.

The dream of a Coney Island beach free to the people may soon come true. The battle that The Evening World has waged for years to give the 5,000,000 men, women and children of this city a chance to see the ocean without paying to walk across some one's land at last appears to be near a victorious conclusion.

Attorneys General Woodbury and Corporation Counsel Hardy are preparing to act upon the decision of the Court of Appeals and reclaim the strip of land at the edge of the sea which belongs to the people. The highest court in this State has decided that the beach at Coney Island—that is, the land between high water and low water mark—belongs to the State and that the people have the right to use it. There are a few pieces of property that belong outright to individuals to whom the State has given an absolute title, and in these cases it will be necessary to bring condemnation proceedings. But the fact remains that the recent decision of the highest court is a victory for the people in their long struggle to go freely to the sea.

ACTUAL EJECTION MAY BEGIN
NEXT WEEK.

Mayor Mitchel has written to Attorney General Woodbury, offering the help of the Administration to clear up all that part of the beach on which trespassers have built houses, walks, etc., and to open the shore to the public in accord with the opinion of the Court of Appeals in the case against the Steeplechase Park Company. The work of actual ejection of the trespassers will be begun probably early next week, and thus The Evening World's long crusade to make the ocean free to all will meet final success.

"The land involved in the decision of the Court of Appeals," said Assistant Corporation Counsel Friedman, "is a part of Tilyou's Steeplechase Park, about 1,000 feet long and extending from high water mark to low water mark. The court says that the State, through its Corporation Counsel, gave the Steeplechase Company the right to use the land, but not to exclude the people from the beach. Therefore, all structures that keep people off this beach must be removed. It follows, of course, that all owners of beach property who hold titles like that of Steeplechase Park will have to clear the way to so that the people may go on their own land."

"Mayor Mitchel has directed the Department of Docks to find out just what other property along the shore is held on similar titles and ascertain if there are known the land will be cleared. The question of the State's right to enter on the land is settled by the opinion of the highest court. We have taken a long step forward."

OPENING UP A MILE OF FREE BEACH.

The tract in question includes that part of the Coney Island sands which extends from the westerly end of Tilyou's Steeplechase Park to the Municipal Baths, some three-quarters of a mile. Once this is cleared there

"I congratulate the people and The Evening World."

Charles F. Feltman, owner of one of the biggest enterprises at Coney Island, also praised The Evening World for its fight to open the beach to the public. "The next thing we need is the boardwalk," he declared. "The Evening World has been a great factor and we need the boardwalk much as we needed 80-cent gas. Attempts have been made to throw all the cost of it upon the Island. It will be a benefit to all the people of New York, and we all hope that some equitable plan for building it will be found."

Charles F. Feltman, owner of one of the biggest enterprises at Coney Island, also praised The Evening World for its fight to open the beach to the public. "The next thing we need is the boardwalk," he declared. "The Evening World has been a great factor and we need the boardwalk much as we needed 80-cent gas. Attempts have been made to throw all the cost of it upon the Island. It will be a benefit to all the people of New York, and we all hope that some equitable plan for building it will be found."

"I congratulate the people and The Evening World."

"I congratulate the people and The Evening World."